THE GREEN CIRCUS MISSION

Welcome to the Green Circus! The Green Circus is a collective of multi-disciplined artists and educators whose mission is to educate the public on ways to live a more economically viable and ecologically sustainable lifestyle. Through performance and multimedia, The Green Circus provides simple solutions for creating cleaner air, water, and land by reducing toxic fuel emissions using renewable, sustainable, and efficient sources - better known as Clean Energy. On December 7th, 2002 - Day of Action, The Green Circus performed with Greenpeace in front of 3 ExxonMobil gas stations for Greenpeace's "Don't Buy ExxonMobil" campaign. We will also perform for the Sierra Club's Clean Energy Spring Benefit on April 24, 2003. As the use of fossil fuels continues to threaten life on planet earth, The Green Circus is in alliance with many other organizations that believe Clean Energy offers real and sustainable solutions.

THE TOUR

The Green Circus will PROVIDE AN EXAMPLE of renewable energy. We will travel around the country on a tour bus called The Green Machine - running on biodiesel as well as grease from restaurants. The Green Machine will travel all over the United States to various schools, biodiesel co-ops, biodiesel plants, music festivals, eco-festivals, renewable energy conferences, and state fairs. The bus will also serve as a mobile advertising billboard displaying the ecological and economic impact of our fuel as well as displaying eco-sponsor logos. There will be cross promotion of the Green Circus and sponsors/funders through our website www.greencircus.org which is also displayed on the "bus billboard."

THE CLEANEST SHOW ON EARTH!

This free show is performed in a magical, multi-sensory circus tent which offers the audience a glimpse into a world that is ecologically sustainable. We will entertain audiences of all ages through multimedia, audience interaction, acrobatics, clowning, trapeze, and live music. Our troupe will illustrate easy and simple solutions for creating cleaner air, water, and land with Clean Energy. After the performance, there will be an engaging and fun performance style class that explains how surprisingly easy it is to implement biodiesel and other forms of Clean Energy within the public infrastructure, as well as providing practical and personal solutions. This show and class will be performed at various times of the day and evening. The Green Circus will announce the show times by parading through the crowd.

GREEN CIRCUS WORKSHOPS

The Green Circus provides holistic yoga, healing arts, dance, music, clowning, film, puppet making and theatre workshops with an environmental twist for children and adults. The Green Circus also provides information on other related organizations. An educational Green Circus comic book printed on hemp paper will be readily available.

DOCUMENTARY

The Green Circus is presently making a documentary on the creative process of the tour. This documentary will contain interviews with farmers, children and people of all ages about their concerns and opinions relating to Clean Energy. It will provide educational information about biodiesel and will show the various biodiesel plants and co-ops springing up across the country. Other forms of Clean Energy will also be explained. This film will be distributed nationwide to universities, film festivals and other venues.
